

German credit (OpenML credit-g), $n_{\text{test}} = 300$, $B = 2000$ paired bootstrap replicates, perturbations redrawn per replicate; measured cross-link correlation 0.712. The threshold is illustrative: a risk appetite is set by the operator, not by the data.